A. Brief History

At the time of the adoption of the Universal Declaration on Human Rights in 1948, the question of the rights of older persons was first raised by Argentina, but the matter was referred to the Economic and Social Council. There is no reference to age discrimination in the UDHR.

Ageing issues are addressed by the Department of Economic and Social Affairs (<https://www.un.org/development/desa/ageing/>), the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (<https://www.ohchr.org/EN/Issues/OlderPersons/Pages/OlderPersonsIndex.aspx>), and the five regional commissions. They, as part of the United Nations Secretariat, are directly involved in the work of the Open-ended Working Group on Ageing. The World Health Organization also has a programme on ageing (https://www.who.int/health-topics/ageing#tab=tab_1) but is not involved in the work of the Open-ended Working Group.

UNITED NATIONS DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL AFFAIRS – KEY EVENTS RELATED TO PROTECTING THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF OLDER PERSONS.

- The General Assembly, in its resolution 37/51 of 3 December 1982 (<https://undocs.org/A/RES/37/51>) endorsed the Vienna International Plan of Action on Ageing, adopted by consensus at the first World Assembly on Ageing held in Vienna, Austria from 2 July to 6 August 1982.
- In 1990, the General Assembly, in its resolution 45/106, designated 1 October as International Day for the Elderly (subsequently changed to International Day for Older Persons).
- In 1991, the General Assembly, in its resolution 46/91, adopted the Principles for Older Persons, encouraging Governments to incorporate five basic principles into their national programmes whenever possible - (independence, participation, care, self-fulfillment, dignity (<https://undocs.org/A/RES/46/91>)).
- In 1992, in its resolution 47/5, the General Assembly adopted the Proclamation on Ageing (<https://undocs.org/A/RES/47/5>) and decided to observe 1999 as the International Year of Older Persons “in recognition of humanity’s demographic coming of age and the promise it holds for maturing attitudes and capabilities in social, economic, cultural and spiritual undertakings, not least for global peace and development in the next century”
- In 2002, following the Second World Assembly on Ageing held in Madrid from 8-12 April 2002 the Madrid International Plan of Action on Ageing (MIPAA) was endorsed by the General Assembly in its resolution 57/167 of 18 December 2002 (<https://undocs.org/A/RES/57/167>). The MIPAA focused on three priority areas: older persons and development; advancing health and well-being into old age; and ensuring enabling and supportive environments.

The above programmes of action and resolutions are “soft law” and are not legally binding.

In response to General Assembly resolution 63/151 in 2008, by which it requested the Secretary-General to submit a report on implementation of that resolution, including information on the promotion and protection of human rights as they pertain to older persons, the Secretary-General submitted his report (A/64/127- <https://undocs.org/A/64/127>) in which he concluded that despite the existence of both policy and legal documents, the human rights of older persons have not been adequately promoted or protected.

The following year, the Secretary-General submitted another report (A/65/157- <https://undocs.org/A/65/157>) that pointed out that civil society and public opinion have increasingly addressed the issue of older persons through a human rights perspective, advocating for a comprehensive international instrument to protect the rights of older persons. In a second report (A/65/158 - <https://undocs.org/A/65/158>) submitted to the General Assembly that year, the Secretary-General, in assessing implementation of MIPAA, also drew attention to empowering older persons and promoting their rights. The General Assembly, in its resolution 65/182 of 21 December 2010, took note of those two reports and decided to establish an open-ended working group (see below).

The United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs (Programme on Ageing Section) provides secretariat services to the Open-ended Working Group on Ageing (OEWGA), which includes preparation of reports for the OEWGA’s discussions.

This resolution was controversial and was subject to a vote – 54 yes, 5 no (Canada, Israel, Seychelles, South Sudan, USA), and 118 abstentions. Nevertheless, the resolution stands as an adopted resolution of the General Assembly.

It also requested that OHCHR prepare a report on normative standards and obligations under international law in relation to the promotion and protection of the human rights of older persons and organize a multistakeholder meeting to discuss that report.

It should be noted that older persons are also sometimes addressed by other Independent Experts and Special Rapporteurs on topics such as human rights and extreme poverty, right of everyone to the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health, rights of persons with disabilities.

D. OFFICE OF THE HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

In 2012, the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights submitted a report (<https://undocs.org/E/2012/51>) to the Economic and Social Council concerning the human rights situation of older persons, including through an analysis of existing international instruments and gaps in the protection regime. The High Commissioner concluded that “current arrangements at the national and international level to protect the human rights of older persons are inadequate. Dedicated measures to strengthen the international protection regime for older persons are called for without further delay. Member States should explore various measures, including a new dedicated international instrument, a new special procedure mandate under the auspices of the Human rights Council, and mainstreaming the human rights of older persons throughout existing mechanisms, policies and programmes.”

In 2021, The United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights made available its follow-up analytical outcome study on the normative standards in the international human rights law in relation to older persons to the Open-ended Working Group on Ageing at its 11th session, but it was not discussed. Austria and Germany requested that it be in the programme of work for OEWGA 12, 11-14 April 2022. <https://social.un.org/ageing-working-group/documents/eleventh/OHCHR%20HROP%20working%20paper%2022%20Mar%202021.pdf>

Also in 2021, pursuant to HRC resolution A/HRC/RES/48/3 (see above), the OHCHR was requested to report on normative standards and obligations under international law in relation to the promotion and protection of the human rights of older persons and organize a multistakeholder meeting to discuss that report. In 2022, the OHCHR prepared a report on normative standards and obligations under international law in relation to the promotion and protection of the human rights of older persons (<https://undocs.org/A/HRC/49/70>). OHCHR subsequently convened a multi-stakeholder meeting on the human rights of older persons, that was held 29-30 August 2022. The summary report of that meeting is here: <https://undocs.org/A/HRC/52/49>. At time of updating this document, the Human Rights Council had not taken any action on that report.

E. INDEPENDENT EXPERT

The Human Rights Council, in 2013, having taken note of the report of the Secretary-General (A/67/188) which, inter alia, explored the key challenges faced by older persons in the enjoyment of their human rights, the reports of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (E/2012/51 – see above) and A/HRC/24/25 (<https://undocs.org/A/HRC/24/25>) which concluded that a number of human rights issues that are particularly relevant to older persons have not been given sufficient attention, decided, in 2013, to appoint an independent expert on the enjoyment of all human rights by older persons (HRC resolution 24/20 - <https://undocs.org/A/HRC/RES/24/20>). The Human Rights Council requested the Secretary-General to ensure that the reports of the Independent Expert are brought to the attention of the OEWGA.

The first Independent Expert was Rosa Kornfeld Matte (Chile) and her three-year term began in 2014, which was renewed, ending in 2019 after presentation of her final report of her second term.

The second Independent expert is Claudia Mahler (Austria). Her three-year term began in 2020. In its resolution A/HRC/RES/42/12 (<https://undocs.org/A/HRC/RES/42/12>) extending the mandate of the IE, the Human Rights Council also requested that in addition to reporting to it regularly, the IE should also report regularly to the General Assembly. The Human Rights Council also requested the Secretary-General to ensure that the Independent Expert's reports be brought to the attention of the OEWGA.

Reports of the Independent Expert are listed in annex IV.

- promotion and protection of the human rights and dignity of older persons: contributions from the second global review and appraisal of MIPAA
 - update on multilateral processes
 - social security and the right to health
 - discrimination and access to work

Pursuant to General Assembly resolution 67/139 of 20 December 2012, the OEWSGA at its fourth session received proposals for possible “main elements” that could be included in a convention, compiled on the basis of a survey conducted among Member States, civil society organizations and organizations of the United Nations system. No agreement was reached on the way forward. See annex II for list of possible elements for a convention. The OEWSGA also received a presentation from the OHCHR on the compilation of existing international legal instruments, documents and programmes that directly or indirectly address the situation of older persons.

Announcement was made of the formation of a Group of Friends of Older Persons (Member State membership).

- 2014 At its 5th session (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2014/2>), the OEWSGA heard presentations from the Independent Expert on the enjoyment of all human rights by older persons and from the Special Adviser to the Secretary-General on older persons and post-2015 agenda. Panel discussions addressed:
- a. human rights and care of older persons
 - b. violence and abuse against older persons
 - c. planning for end-of-life care: legal and financial issues
 - d. how to strengthen the rights of older persons through enhanced implementation of MIPAA
- 2015 At its 6th session (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2015/2>) the OEWSGA heard a presentation from the Independent Expert. Panel discussions addressed:
- a. recent policy developments and initiatives concerning the human rights of older persons
 - b. recent legislative and legal developments and challenges in the human rights of older persons
 - c. follow-up to General Assembly resolution 69/146: proposals and measures, best practices and lessons learned that will contribute to promoting and protecting the rights and dignity of older persons
 - d. older persons and human rights in the post-2015 development agenda.

The Chair of the OEWSGA invited Member States to start working on the text of a legal instrument.

- 2016 At the 7th session (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2016/2>), the OEWSGA decided, pursuant to General Assembly resolution 70/163 of 17 December 2015 concerning national institutions for the promotion and protection of human rights, to invite national human rights institutions compliant with the Paris Principles (<https://undocs.org/A/RES/48/134>) to participate in its work.

The OEWSGA heard a presentation from the Independent Expert. Panel discussions addressed:

- a. recent regional developments and initiatives concerning the human rights of older persons
- b. human rights dimensions concerning older persons in recent policy developments and initiatives in multilateral processes
- c. follow-up to General Assembly resolution 70/164 (<https://undocs.org/A/RES/70/164>) on measures to enhance the promotion and protection of the human rights and dignity of older persons: best practices, lessons learned, possible content for a multilateral legal instrument and identification of areas and issues where further protection and action is needed.

At the same session, the Chair listed, on the basis of discussions, 14 issues that “need to be better addressed by the international community in order to allow older persons to fully enjoy their human rights.” See annex III. The two focus areas selected for in-depth discussion by the OEWSGA at its 8th session in 2017 were:

- a. equality and non-discrimination
- b. violence, neglect, and abuse

Member States, National Human Rights Institutes and NGOs were requested to submit inputs for those discussions, on the basis of specific guiding questions to be provided.

2017 At the 8th session (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2017/2>) the OEWSGA discussed equality and non-discrimination; and violence, neglect and abuse. Syntheses of the submissions were prepared by the Secretariat (UN/DESA/ Programme on Ageing Unit and OHCHR). Panellists were invited to discuss the issues.

It was decided that the two focus areas for discussion by the OEWSGA at its 9th session would be:

- a. autonomy and independence
- b. long-term and palliative care

It was also decided that in addition to requesting substantive inputs for discussion, the Bureau would also call for “substantive inputs in the form of normative content for the development of a possible international standard on protection of the rights of older people to equality and non-discrimination and the right to live free from violence, neglect and abuse” for discussion.

2018 At the 9th session of the OEWSGA (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2018/2>) panelists were again invited to discuss the two selected focus areas but there was no panel convened to discuss the normative aspects of equality and non-discrimination, and violence, neglect and abuse (discussed at 8th session).

The OEWSGA also decided on the next two issues to be discussed at its 10th session in 2019, namely:

- a. Social protection and social security (including social protection floors)
- b. Education, training, lifelong learning and capacity-building

At the same session, the Chair suggested that the OEWSGA consider at its next session “the possibility of concluding each session with concrete outcomes in order to capitalize on our deliberations and reflect our agreements with regard to each area affecting the enjoyment of human rights by older persons. Such outcomes could take many forms, such as agreed conclusions or decisions of the Working Group, which should be negotiated between governments and reflect any common points identified in the focus areas examined from a normative perspective.”

2019 At the 10th session (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2019/2>) reports on the syntheses of inputs received on the two “focus areas” as well as the “Normative inputs” were:

- A/AC.278/2019/CRP.2 (social protection and social security (including social protection floors).
- A/AC.278/2019/CRP.3 (education, training, life-long learning and capacity-building)
- A/AC.278/2019/CRP.4 (Normative content for the development of a possible international standard on the focus areas “autonomy and independence” and “long-term and palliative care”).

See above reference to General Assembly resolution A/RES/74/125 in 2019, in which it requested the OEWSGA to consider adopting at each session intergovernmentally negotiated recommendations to be presented for consideration by the General Assembly

2020 The 11th session of OEWSGA did not meet because of COVID-19. However, informal consultations were held on proposed “intergovernmentally negotiated recommendations” but no agreement was reached. Some Member States insisted on a legal interpretation of the meaning of “to consider adopting at each session intergovernmentally negotiated recommendations” in terms of just discussing whether or not recommendations can be formulated for adoption, rather than actually adopting recommendations. The United Nations Legal Counsel provided a list of examples where “to consider adopting” referred to adoption of recommendations/decisions, certain measures etc., and not just considering whether or not recommendations can be formulated for adoption. The informal consultations did not proceed. No decision by the OEWSGA in formal session has been taken on whether or not to proceed with consideration of intergovernmentally negotiated recommendations.

2021 The postponed 11th session was a virtual meeting (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2021/2>). Reports on the synthesis of inputs received on the two “focus areas” as well as the “normative inputs” were:

- A/AC.278/2020/CRP.2 (Normative content for the development of a possible international standard on the focus areas “education, training, lifelong learning and capacity building” and “social protection and social security (including social protections floors)” -
- A/AC.278/2020/CRP.3 (right to work and access to the labour market) – (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2020/CRP.3>)
- A/AC.278/2020/CRP.4 (access to justice) - (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2020/CRP.4>)
- Update to the 2012 Analytical Outcome study on the normative standards in international human rights law in relation to older persons (Working paper prepared by the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights, March 2021) was also made available to OEWSGA 11 (<https://social.un.org/ageing-working-group/documents/eleventh/OHCHR%20HROP%20working%20paper%2022%20Mar%202021.pdf>) It was not discussed. Austria and Germany requested that it be discussed at OEWSGA12 (11-14 April 2022). Different views were expressed, but no decision was taken.

The Chair’s summary referred to divergent views on Argentina’s proposal to convene an intersessional “contact group” to continue discussions, but no decision one way or the other was recorded.

The Chair’s Summary also made a reference to the “divergent views” concerning the General Assembly’s request to the OEWSGA to consider adopting at each session intergovernmentally negotiated recommendations. But there was no decision recorded as to whether the OEWSGA would comply with the General Assembly’s request or not.

2022 At the 12th session of the OEWSGA (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2022/2>), reports on the syntheses of inputs received on the two “focus areas” as well as the “Normative inputs” were:

- A/AC.278/2022/CRP.2 (right to work and access to the labour market and access to justice” (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2022/CRP.2>)
- A/AC.278/2022/CRP.3 (Contribution of older persons to sustainable development (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2022/CRP.3>)
- A/AC.278/2022/CRP.4 (economic security) (<https://undocs.org/A/AC.278/2022/CRP.4>)

The report of OEWSGA referred to the establishment of a cross-regional informal core group to work during the intersessional period with the main objective of preparing a draft decision to be submitted for the consideration of the Working Group at its thirteenth session in 2023. “The draft decision could contain a proposal for the establishment of an intersessional Working Group with the objective of preparing and presenting a draft text determining the main gaps in the international human rights system for older persons, which would be the basis for the further negotiations of instruments and measures to close these gaps by Member States and Observers in the Working Group.

2023 At the 13th session of the OEWSGA, reports on the syntheses of inputs received for “Normative inputs” and for the two “focus areas” were:

- A/C.278/2023/CRP.2 (contribution of older persons to sustainable development; and economic security) (<https://undocs.org/A/AC/278/2023/CRP.2>)
- A/C.278/2023/CRP.3 (Right to health and health services
- A/C.278/2023/CRP.4 (Social inclusion)

The OEWSGA adopted a decision that requested the Chair to appoint two Co-Facilitators, one from a developed country and one from a developing country to facilitate the consideration of the existing international framework of the human rights of older persons and the identification of possible gaps in the protection of the human rights of older persons and how best to address them, and invited the co-facilitators to conduct open, transparent and inclusive informal intergovernmental meetings between the thirteenth and fourteenth sessions of the Working Group, with all States Members of the United Nations, members of the specialized agencies, and observers in the General Assembly, and to collaborate with national human rights institutions and non-governmental organizations and the Independent Expert of the Human Rights Council on the enjoyment of all human rights by older persons, within her mandate, during the process. The OEWSGA also requested the co-facilitators to submit proposed intergovernmental negotiated recommendations to be considered at the fourteenth session of the Working Group and to be presented for consideration by the General Assembly, in accordance with resolution 77/190, regarding the existing international framework of the human rights of older persons and possible gaps, and options on how best to address them.

NOTES:

As at February 2023, the OEWGA has not complied with any of the General Assembly's numerous requests for proposals containing, inter alia, the main elements that should be included in an international legal instrument, nor concrete proposals, practical measures, best practices and lessons learned, nor "intergovernmentally negotiated recommendations". See resolutions listed in Section A above.

WHY WE NEED A LEGAL INSTRUMENT TO PROMOTE AND PROTECT THE RIGHTS OF OLDER PERSONS

- There are gaps in protection of older persons in existing human rights standards and laws.
- “Age” is not recognized as a category of discrimination – unlike gender, race, ethnicity, language, religion.
- Age discrimination and ageism are widely tolerated throughout the world.
- Older persons are often treated as subjects or objects of welfare instead of as rights holders
- Older persons are often vulnerable to deprivation and exclusion, disproportionately during times of crisis.
- Single most pressing challenge to the welfare of older persons is poverty, characterized by homelessness, malnutrition, unattended chronic diseases, lack of access to safe drinking water and sanitation, unaffordable medicines and treatments, income insecurity.
- Older persons are at higher risk of abuse and violence – physical, verbal, sexual, psychological or financial – and the consequences are often more severe.
- Respect for older persons’ rights also benefits society as a whole.

Everyone should grow old and prosper with dignity !!

WHAT IS THE ADDED VALUE OF A SPECIFIC CONVENTION TO PROTECT AND PROMOTE THE RIGHTS OF OLDER PERSONS?

A new, legally binding instrument (a convention) would bring clarity to both the nature of older persons’ rights and the responsibilities necessary to protect them (think of specific conventions for children, women and persons with disabilities, which have made a HUGE difference to their lives and to society as a whole, around the world).

A convention on the rights of older persons would, among other things:

- View older persons as rights-holders.
- Codify the rights of older persons in one single document, recognizing the specific challenges related to ageing and serving as a tool for both empowerment and protection.
- Establish a common, global understanding of definitions and minimum standards of practice.
- Act as an anti-discriminatory tool to challenge prevailing negative stereotypes about old age.
- Require governments to collect data, develop indicators, establish laws and policies, develop programmes that take into account the rights and concerns of older persons.
- Improve State accountability and transparency with respect to actions taken for older persons, including with their active participation.
- Raise public awareness in respect of older persons’ rights.
- Create societies and environments for all ages, where older persons are also able to contribute, prosper and enjoy their rights.
